Report on State Missions.

No work inaugurated by the Baptists of Alabama, within the recollection of your committee, has met with the success nor seems so full of promise at the present time, as that entrusted to the State Mission Board of our Convention. From its very commencement the blessing of God has abundantly abided upon it. But it is now in a more prosperous condition than ever before.

During the last year eleven men with the corresponding secretary have been employed in the work of this board, whose labors have been expended in the bounds of thirty-two associations. They have preached two thousand and sixty-nine sermons, preaching often in destitute places and to people who walked fifteen or twenty miles to hear them. Forty-eight persons have been baptized by them and two hundred and sixty-seven have been baptized by the pastors of weak churches where their labor was expended. Ten churches have been organized at important points, and others almost extinct have been saved to the denomination. One hundred and seventy Sabbath Schools and seventy three prayer meetings have been organized, and four hundred and ninety-five religious visits have been made to families and persons.

Since the last meeting of our association Bro. J. E. Cox has been appointed evangelist for this district, and is now engaged in the prosecution of his work.

Your committee recommend that the association come up as one man to the support of the Board in their efforts to evangelize the State, looking to God for success.

Sabbath School Report.

The purpose of the Sunday School is to sow seeds in the mind and heart that will produce good fruit. In it the highest interests of the soul are investigated. The Lord in His goodness, has seen proper not to reveal unto mortals all that may hereafter be made known unto them. But he has given us the scriptures of eternal truth, wherein we may learn much of His greatness, goodness, mercy and glory. And He has given us capacity to look into these things for ourselves, if we will but take the pains to do so. We have ample time all along the journey of life to drink deep of the wells of God's truth, of which if a man drink they will be in him a well of water springing up unto eternal life.

In the Sabbath School we have systematic plans by which we can engage in study of the scriptures, Sabbath after Sabbath, month after month, throughout a whole life time and never exhaust or lose interest in the subject, but rather become more and more interested as we learn to conform more and more to the will of Christ.

In making an estimate of the amount of work that has been accomplished by those who have studied the Uniform Lessons during the past four years, we find that the number of verses studied during that time as lesson texts alone, aside from Golden Texts and References, amount to two thousand and forty-eight verses, or about an average of ten verses a week. Casually viewed this may seem a small work and of little value, but when the vast number of precious truths which these verses contain, and the impressions produced, and the lives and characters that have been shaped and turned into the proper channels by them, are viewed, it swells into immensity.

Impressed with the importance of the work, your committee feel it a duty to call attention to two flagrant evils that exist in our bounds, with the hope that at this meeting measures will be adopted and plans inaugurated that will counteract them. First, the number of Sabbath Schools in this Association is far short of what it should be. Second, the number of idlers in the Lord's vineyard is so great as to cause us to tear the Lord will trown upon us as a people, for the manner in which many professing christianity, spend their Sabbath day. The injunctions, "forsake not the assembling of yourselves," etc., "search the scriptures," "let the word of Christ dwell in you richly," etc., all seem to go unheeded. To correct these evils we recommend the appointment of a committee of five whose duty it shall be to organize all the Sunday Schools in our bounds into a "Sunday School Institute," hold meetings for the discussion of Sunday School and other religious subjects; at each meeting receive reports from all the Sunday Schools, giving statistics and accounts of the state of the work; organize new schools whenever practicable; urge the importance of full and regular attendance at Sunday Schools. And to the Churches and Sabbath Schools we would recommend that committees be appointed to canvass the entire membership in reference to their duty to attend Sabbath Schools, and that they co-operate with the S. S. Institute in the manner indicated above. And to all we recommend fervent prayer to Almighty God for his blessings on the Sunday School work. We further recommend that the Superintendents of all the schools in this Association make a report at least one month before the meeting of the Association, to the chairman of the S. S. Committee, giving history of the S. S. work in their churches, statistics of the schools, etc.

We find the work performed in the three districts during the Associational year to be as follows: In the First District there were four interesting meetings held at Salem, Ruhama, Cahaba, and at a school house near Springville. Organized one Sunday School. The committee believe much and lasting good was accomplished in these meetings. The Second District held one good meeting. Your committee are not informed as to the work in the Third District. There are in this Association eleven Sunday Schools with an enrollment of 530 pupils and teachers. Respectfully submitted.

T. V. B. MOOR,	} Committee.
R. TIMS.
A. J. NUNNELLY.

The Moderator then appointed the following brethren as Sabbath School Committee for the Association during the ensuing year, viz: T. V. B. Moor, M. K. Vanu, R. J. Wal-drop, N. F. Miles, J. M. Huey.

On motion agreed to meet to-night at 7 o'clock p. m., to finish up the business of the present session.

The report on Education was then read by brother R. E. Huey, and after some alterations was adopted, as follows:

Report on Education.

We believe that education without christianity is a failure. And while education may often assist and be of service to the cause of christianity, yet education without christianity, is often no better than a curse. We believe the history of christianity in the world fully sustains this idea. But when the mind is well stored with useful knowledge, and that knowledge is consecrated to the service of God and christianity, it becomes a power for good. As a thorough education develops and brings to the surface all the latent powers of the intellect, so, likewise, christianity in the heart develops and brings out all those higher powers of the soul. How important it is that the mind and heart should be correctly educated?

The Clerk and J. H. Hendon were appointed to draft a form of letter for the churches to use in sending up their annual report to the Association. Adjourned.

NIGHT SESSION, 7 O'CLOCK, P. M.

Met according to adjournment; prayer by Elder James Grimes.

Called for report on Home and Foreign Missions, which was read by the Clerk, Elder J. H. Weatherly, the writer, not being present. After remarks by J. H. Hendon and R. W. Inzer, the following resolution was adopted as an amendment to the report:

Resolved, That we earnestly recommend all our churches to take up a collection at least once a year for the Home Mission Board, located at Marion, Ala., also a like collection for the Foreign Mission Board, located at Richmond, Va.

The report was then adopted:

Report of Committee on Home and Foreign Missions.

The gospel is "glad tidings of great joy which shall be to all people." It was prompted by the love of God for us "while we were yet sinners." He sent His only begotten Son into the world to save sinners. Jesus came, lowering himself to the humblest circumstances of men, but rejoicing in his work. He first preached this gospel himself he being then the only preacher. Having finished his work, and being ready to go to his Father, he sent his twelve apostles to preach. Apostles means those sent away or from, and thus these chosen men of God were sent from the Savior to preach the unsearchable riches of God's grace. They in obedience to orders, began at home, "at Jerusalem," but they did not stay there to convert everybody, but they preached, and collected the disciples into churches, and they hasted away into other parts, telling the glorious news wherever they went, until the gospel had been preached throughout Judea, Asia Minor, Capidocia, Macedonia, Spain, Northern Africa, Brittain, and, in fact, in every known region of the world. But everybody was not converted, and new generations were being born into the world: so that the great world continued to roll on, and "the little stone cut out of the mountain" must needs roll. The wise, the great, kings and peoples, rose against it, and though the disciples of Jesus have been hunted down and put to death "for Christ's sake," yet they who bring glad tidings have never ceased to run to and fro through the earth, telling the news and testifying to its power and excellence, and "the kingdoms of this world are fast becoming the kingdoms of our Lord and His Christ." Heathen Europe, with its 300 millions, has been virtually subdued, and is now under the influence of the gospel. The haughty mistress of the world, Romanism, clothed in the garments of christianity, has at last had the arm of her power effectually broken, we trust, and to-day a splendid edifice occupied by a veritable Baptist church, lifts its lovely head under the shadows of the Vatican itself. Over in Asia, with its marvellous multitudes and its time honored idolatry, in India, in China, in Japan, multitudes, thousands, have been converted and are being converted to-day. Self-sustaining churches have been established, well organized schools founded, and the eventual evangelization of those iron-bound nations of a mysterious antiquity can no longer be doubted. Indeed, the success of the gospel in Asia is sublimely grand and cheers and encourages the christian heart, looking with longing, prayerful eyes to the spread of God's kingdom and the coming of His Christ. It is another grand miracle, testifying to the truth of prophecy and the power of God's truth. And this is the work of a few missionaries—a few faithful self-denying men and women, supported by the contributions of Christian's and God's grace.

Our own beloved America, with its free governments and its civilization is a grand display of the spread of the gospel. "The Isles of the sea," too, have heard the voice of the preacher, and whole nations have literally been born into the kingdom. Even some of the wild tribes of the poor red man of America, unconquerable by the sword, through the efforts of a few earnest missionaries, have buried the tomahawk and taken up the plow, and have built themselves comfortable homes, churches and school houses.

This is the history of civilization, of christian civilization, and when viewed fairly, is marvellous. All this has been accomplished by long and painful efforts, amid floods of tears and streams of blood. Slow, slow, was the progress, for many long centuries, and slow it yet seems to some, but infidels and doubting christians should close their mouths now. "The Lord of hosts hath triumphed gloriously," the gospel is a sublime success. What may be done even in our day, by patient, prayerful effort, might astonish us could we foresee it. We have the accumulated testimony and moral influence of all this success. Let our hearts be encouraged.

J. H. WEATHERLY, Chairman.

The report of the Finance Committee was then read and adopted, which see in statistical table.

Heard the report of special committee on the death of brother W. J. Eubank. The committee reported the following:

Since the convening of this body, it has pleased the Lord to remove from earth our esteemed brother W. J. Eubank, who died last night, the 3rd inst., at Mr. James Wilson's, father-in-law of our brother. His death was not unexpected by his many friends, having been confined to his bed for three months with a lingering painful illness, which reduced him to a mere skeleton before his death. He bore his sufferings with great patience and christian resignation, professing a desire to live that he might be useful to the church and to his family, yet at the same time he was resigned to the will of the Lord, being assured, that whether his life was spared or taken, all was well. Brother Eubank professed religion when quite young and was baptised by Elder A. J. Waldrop into the fellowship of Sulphur Spring Church, of which he lived a consistent and useful member for a number of years. At the time of his death he was a member of Ruhama Church, having removed to that community some two years ago. All who knew our brother knew him but to love him—always the same calm, dignified christian gentleman, in all the relationships of life. We can truly say a good man has gone, and we mourn the untimely loss of such a true christian and useful citizen, but we bow in meek submission to the will of Him who cannot do wrong. We tender our sympathies to his bereaved family.
